Leasing of the Public Lands.

An Official Statement Made by the National Live Stock Association.

HEADQUARTERS, DENVER, COL., March 8, 1900.

Owing to the unnecessary excitement prevailing in some sections over the action of the National Live Stock Association at the third annual convention in Fort Worth, Texas, in relation to the leasing of the public lands of the United States, the following official statement is made of said action for the information of the public. The land leasing question came up in the shape of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That such of the public lands of the United States as are adapted for grazing should be subject to lease by stockmen who are citizens, at a reasonable rental and under such conditions as will tend to preserve the grasses from destruction, and improve the value of the grasses thereon."

This resolution was presented to the convention and the following substitute was offered:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the public lands of the United States adapted for grazing, shall not be subject to lease."

The subject went to debate on a motion to adopt the substitute. The discussion was full and complete, every opportunity being given the adherents of both sides of the question to discuss it freely. Those in favor of leasing and against the substitute argued that the time had come when this question must be met. Attention was called to the bills pending in Congress, none of which were satisfactory to the stockmen and none of which were endorsed in any way. It was argued that administration officers had called attention to the fact that under present conditions, the grass on the ranges was rapidly disappearing; that it took twice as many acres to support an animal now than was required ten years ago and that unless some step was taken soon to improve the condition of the range, the time was not far distant when nothing but desert would be left. Backed by this argument, corporation influence was at work to secure the passage of a law that would make the range subject to lease with practically no restrictions or safeguards for the protection of the small stockman and homesteader. It was pointed out that the argument was largely in favor of a change from present conditions, and that under proper restrictions, the leasing plan seemed to offer the most favorable opportunities for the small stockman.

It was argued that should the convention decide against the proposition without argument, it would leave the field open to the unscrupulous to push their measures and receive administration support. It was urged that the better plan would be to declare in favor of leasing, appoint a committee to prepare a bill to meet the ideas of the stockmen, and in the meanwhile take steps to head off all legislation until the proposed measure of the stockmen could be agreed upon.

Delegates representing sheep associations were almost unanimously opposed to making any change and they argued in favor of the substitute resolution. They pointed out that much of the grazing lands in the country west of the Rockies was unfit for anything but sheep grazing, and as the sheep men used both winter and summer range, they could not afford to pay rental upon the large areas they would need for their flocks. The sheepmen also pointed out the danger that might come from speculators who would lease large areas for the simple purpose of compelling the sheepman to pay them a profit on the investment to secure grazing privileges. Some attempt was also made to show that the rights of the homesteader would become endangered, and that the corporation and capitalist would eventually prevail over the smaller stockman, and the range industry pass into the hands of corporate capital. However, all sides agreed that the small stockman and homesteader must be fully protected, so this argument had little weight.

After much discussion the debate was closed by a motion from Hon. J. C. Mackay of Utah, and one of the leaders of the anti-leasing party, demanding the previous question, which carried, and the rollcall was had on the substitute resolution, resulting as follows:

Ayes—Custer county, Colorado, Cattle Growers, 2; Utah Wool Growers, 50; Cattle Sanitary Board, New Mexico, 3; Fort Collins, Colorado, Sheep Feeders, 11; Uinta Wool Growers, Wyoming, 10; Grand and Eagle River Stock Growers, Colorado, 5; Sheep and Wool Growers' Association Idaho, 81; Black Range Association, New Mexico, 4; Western Nebraska Stock Growers, 8; Logan county, Colorado, Cattle and Horse Association 2; Gunnison county, Colorado, Stock Growers, 1; Yuma county, Colorado, Cattle Growers, 2; Rio Grande Western Railway, 1; Sheep Sanitary Board, New Mexico, 8; Board Sheep Commissioners, Wyoming, 3; Pacific Northwest Wool Growers, Oregon, 8; Fremont county, Colorado, Cattle Growers, 2; Onida Wool Growers, Idaho, 7; Saguache county, Colorado, Cattle Growers, 8; South Omaha Live Stock Exchange, 5; State and county delegates, 21—total 227.

THE WORLD LEARNS.

Without regard to our convictions about forms of government and the rights of the people who live under them, we cannot but admire goodness or a manifestation of our better nature through genuine feeling whenever it makes an appearance. The democratic methods of the Queen of England since the beginning of the British-Boer war have attracted universal attention and observation. She has descended from her otherwise lofty position of a reigning monarch over the greatest empire upon the earth and, it may be truthfully said, mingled among her people as one of them. She has visited the sick, cheered the wounded, soothed the paths of sorrow, bound the sores of bleeding hearts and made the orphans glad. She has brought the apex of human society within speaking distance of its foundation. Nay, she has done more, by giving a critical world to understand that the great heart of Christendom beats in unison.

We will not here discuss the wrongs that too often bring trouble and sorrow, as it is sufficient for the present to know that there is such a thing as a common humanity and that the world is moving to the grand center of a common destiny. There is not a condition that has effected the past relations of England, or that there is connected with the history of Great Britain and Ireland, that has so fully exemplified to England and to the world the dependence of royalty and the upper levels of English society upon the body of the people as the Boer war.

The Boers have taught the hitherto ruling element of the world that men who know their rights are dangerous enemies, and that the power of organization and executive ability is not confined to any department of human society. The world has not given an example in its history of the power of a few thousand men, when acting in unison for a common purpose, that will excel the lesson given by the Transvaal and Free State Dutch.

The world to-day is more conscious of its power to protect the right against encroachment than at any time preceding the present. Whatever may be said by those in opposition to the main purpose of the Burghers will not take an iota from the force of the lesson given to the race declaring its power to maintain the right which as a whole it is ever seeking.

When at peace the small element in society like the small elements in nature become aggressive and often annoy the stronger and perhaps better part there is in the race by means peculiar to the weak because nature has been so careful to protect the weak as it has been to protect the strong there is in nature, but the protection given to the weak, is such as its relation to nature demands and so it is with the protection there is given to the strong there is in the economy.

The strong things in nature like strong men require more to move them than there is required to move the weaker things there are, but when the strong from any cause does move the weak must get out of the way or be crushed. What has been said may in a restricted sense apply to the British and Boers, which sense when used will apply only to quantity as the quality is more than equal to anything that has opposed the Boers.

VICTORIA'S INTENDED VISIT TO IRELAND.

The Queen's intended visit to Ireland will be well received by the people. It is understood that the people of Ireland will not, by their kind reception to the aged monarch, yield any claim or demand for self-government. The sovereign is deeply moved over the sacrifice the Irish soldiers have made in the Boer war.

The fighting qualities of the Irish soldier is historic. In the memorable battle of the Boyne where he was badly led was the cause of his defeat. The same men who fought William of Orange and fell back, afterwards distinguished themselves on the continent under the Duke of Savoy by proving on many a well fought field that it was not the fault of the men but the inefficiency of their commanders. The glory of England to-day is largely due to the valor of the Irish soldiers who have served the English crown with a fidelity seldom found in a people who have received a stone when they demanded a loaf of bread, but their fidelity will be recognized at this time as it has never been before by the English government as a visit of the Queen will be a special recognition of the service rendered by Ireland and Irishmen in the war with the Boers which at one time threatened a possible dismemberment of the British empire.

Could Not Scare Them.

A Reno audience is said to be cold as an iceberg. It never raves and rants when sitting at the feet of dramatic geniuses. The foregoing may be true, although we won't vouch for it. This, however, we will say: If not cold, it is cool. Over in California a fire like the one back of the theater last night would have caused a stampede, panic, maiming and death, or at least a few of these things.

The "Sea Queen" audience looked out of the windows and saw the buildings across the street grow lurid. They inquired where the fire was and, having their curiosity satisfied, settled down comfortably and critically watched the progress of the play. What the people in the riverside town lack in emotion they make up in higher development of the reasoning faculties.

District Court.

A brief session of the District Court was held yesterday morning. The matter of the estate of Philip Wickland, deceased, was taken up. Letters of administration were granted. The estate is estimated to be worth $40,000.

The water suit at Austin between the ranchers on Reese river involves the holdings of thirteen ranchers, and includes their earnings for over thirty years.

The Peculiar Jains.

Ernest M. Bowden in The Nineteenth Century reports a chat with Raja Sivaprasad on Jainism. The Jains pay more regard to the feelings of the lower animals than any other sect in the world; will not kill them or injure them; are careful to avoid destroying even insects, sometimes wearing a handkerchief over the mouth to prevent any living creature being breathed in. It may be argued that this tenderness will prove in the long run fatal to its possessors, handicapping them seriously in the struggle for life with less scrupulous rivals. As evidence to the contrary Mr. Bowden points to the Jains:

"Notwithstanding the opposition, if not active persecutions, of bygone times, the one small sect which, more than any other in the world, has taught and practiced the doctrine of 'ahimsa,' or 'noninjury,' to living creatures, stands today, after some four and twenty centuries, by far the most prosperous community in a population verging on 800,000,000."

EXCITEMENT IN KENTUCKY

Sensational Developments in the Party Struggle.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LOUISVILLE March 10.—Judge Fields of the Circuit Court this morning decided that the Legislature is a tribunal designated by the Constitution for the determination of contests for offices of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor.

The Republicans will try to get the matter before the Supreme Court. In the meantime Governor Taylor refuses to recognize the decision and the military is again in control of affairs at Frankfort. The State capital conflict between the civil and military authorities tonight seems imminent. The situation at Frankfort has reached a point almost as thrilling as it was just after the assassination of Governor Goebel.

All day Governor Taylor refused to surrender Secretary of State Powers and Captain John W. Davis, charged with being accessories to the killing of Goebel. Hundreds of deputy sheriffs were sworn in during the day.

At 8 o'clock to-night Powers and Davis were smuggled aboard a train and speeded toward Lexington. The excitement is intense and a battle is expected hourly.

LEXINGTON, March 11 (1 a. m.)—Powers and Davis were arrested on trains arriving here by the police after a fierce brush with the troops who had them in charge. Both prisoners had sealed pardons on their inside pockets and large sums of money. They are now in prison.

The Frankfort officials have offered $1,000 each for their return and they will be taken back in the morning. The excitement is intense.

Boers Ask for Terms

Their Heroic Warfare Is Nearly at an End.

LONDON, March 11.—It is announced by the press that no less than five messages were received from Presidents Kruger and Steyn, asking upon what terms a cessation of hostilities could be brought about. The cabinet met to consider the message. It is believed that an uncompromising reply was sent to Bloemfontein.

The reply was such as to lead to further retirement of the Boers. It has been given out by a member of the cabinet that the status quo ante-bellum cannot remain unaltered after cessation of hostilities.

A NEVADA MINING MAN HAS TURNED UP MISSING

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Samuel Perkins Warren, a wealthy mine owner of Nevada, is missing. This morning Charles T. Warren, his son, called at the coroner's office and instructed the officials to look out for and unknown body that might turn up. Although the son said but little, it is evident that he fears the worst.

Some months ago Mr. Warren went to London to look for purchasers for his mining interests. He found a buyer for his share of the Gold and Silver Crown mining property in Nevada, but those who owned the remaining interest did not want to close the deal at the figure named. The partners quarreled and since that time Warren has been worrying greatly. He has been missing since Thursday.

After using two bottles of the 25 cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited.—THOMAS O. BOWEN, Glencoe, O. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and painful very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For Sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist."

Of interest to Farmers and Gardeners.

W. Pinniger announces that he has a full line of field, garden and flower seeds grown by D. M. Ferry & Co. of Detroit. Those needing seeds in large or small quantities would do well to get W. Pinniger's price before purchasing. m8w1

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief within a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

PROBABLY INCENDIARY

Two Buildings Destroyed by Last Night's Fire.

Reno was visited last night by another blaze of an unquestionably incendiary origin. The smell of kerosene was noticeable a block from the fire.

It originated about 9 o'clock in a small stable in the rear of R. Nelson's house on Virginia street near Fourth. The delay occasioned by the department which was exactly twelve minutes in reaching the blaze, permitted the fire to get too strong a foothold on an adjoining stable owned by Mrs. Nadon, that this building was also destroyed.

A horse belonging to Mr. Nelson was burned to death, some harness and considerable hay were also burned, bringing the total loss up to about $1,000. The properties were insured.

Several adjoining houses were in grave danger but the fire was kept from burning further.

THE RENO FIRE BUG

No Mercy Should Be Shown to the Fiend.

Reno is at the mercy of a firebug. Every week or two there is a building burned and no other cause than incendiaries can be ascribed.

A remarkable feature of the supposed incendiary's work is that he seems to prefer the blocks bounded by Virginia, Third, Fifth and Sierra streets to manipulate in. The Farry stable, Bunell shop and Nelson stable are all in these squares. Further north on Sierra street is the creamery where another fire was recently started. The lumber yard is somewhat off the beat, but is thought to have been burned by the same miscreant.

Not only has property valued at $30,000 been destroyed by these fires in the past couple of months, but in last night's blaze a horse was burned and in the lumber yard fire a man narrowly escaped with his life.

In some countries, which we allege are uncivilized, an incendiary caught in the act is thrown into the fire. It is almost a pity that enlightened nations do not tolerate this custom.

Popular suspicion has narrowed down to two people and especially to one, as the probable incendiaries. The JOURNAL has been informed by the officers that they have a strong clew and are only waiting for more conclusive evidence before making arrests.

We suggest that they arrest the fellows first and take testimony afterwards. Even if they don't succeed in obtaining a conviction they may put an end to the applying of the torch. If the suspects are really guilty it is probable that a confession could be obtained.

TOLD ON THE STREET CORNERS

The saw and hammer are now making merry music in all parts of town.

Truckee river is booming and the snow is rapidly disappearing from the foothills.

Rose bushes are beginning to leaf, fruit buds are swelling and Tom Smith now ascribes his perennial tired feeling to spring fever.

Messrs. Maxson and Newby left last night for Elko county on government survey work. Engineers Chalmers and Gould are running lines in Lovelock valley.

A pennant from one of the vessels sunk in Cavite harbor by Dewey is in the possession of Mart Evans of this city. The relic is riddled by American projectiles.

RENO, NEVADA

THE NEVADA LANDSCAPE.

ENDLESS is the variety in the monotonous scenery of Nevada. This introductory sentence is as true as it may seem paradoxical. The lights that play on rugged mountain sides, the shadows of the clouds that scurry o'er the flats of alkali—these are a feast unpalating to the eye.

"How dreary is the landscape!" cries an ennui tourist, sighing for the fresh, green fields, the forests and the cities.

He does not love our hills and plains because he cannot grasp their meaning. To fall beneath their sweet and subtle influence he must sniff the pungent odors of the sagebrush after rain. He must lie at night beside the glowing embers of a greasewood fire and search the heavens for their constellations. He must watch the shimmering mantle of the rising moon as it falls on slope and crag,

"Leaving that beautiful which still was so, And making that which was not, till the heart Runs o'er with silent worship."

He who would read the lines of beauty in the landscapes of our lone and lovely state must canter away on the trail of the cattle with the wind of the morning in his face. He must view the thunder clouds that rush to battle with the stern and frowning summits, while the ghostly mists, the vanguard of the storm, sweep down the canons to the thirsty flats below.

If the ennui tourist could behold the perfect sunsets at the close of perfect days, when fall the seashell tints upon the hills and in the lake of ether glow the hues of earth—would he then complain: "This is a dreary landscape?"

A FINISHED PERFORMANCE.

The Sea Queen, Best Amateur Performance of the Season.

For amateurs the production of "The Sea Queen" was finished. Even if the first two words in the foregoing sentence were omitted, there would be no stretching of the truth.

The libretto of the play is interesting, the music is pleasing and the scenery is something almost beyond description.

Professor Lary was the recipient of a lot of pretty congratulations, but what is more to the point, a lot of pretty yellow money as his share of the proceeds. The other members of the cast got the former without the latter, but that was all they were hired for, and they are content. The University Athletic Association, for whose benefit the play was given, got the latter without the former, and that aggregation is also wearing a satisfied smile.

The writer peeped in twice for a few moments last evening, and, although he received neither congratulations nor coin, he heard O'Sullivan and Merrill sing and saw the Amazon-march.

A Close Game.

An exposition of the great American game of baseball, as it is played, was given part of yesterday morning and afternoon at the Corona grounds. The combined senior and middle classes of the high school entered the lists against the undersized but plucky juniors. It required eleven innings to down the youngsters, who scored 28 runs against the 27 points made by the victors.

The Eighth graders, otherwise known as "small potatoes, but hard to skin," have challenged the winners to mortal combat at the same place next Saturday afternoon.

A Surprise Party.

Joe Luchman chaperoned seven boys and a like number of girls on a bus ride yesterday. They drove out to the Frey ranch, where they tendered a birthday surprise party to Lawrence Frey.

Two to One Game.

The baseball game yesterday between the freshmen and juniors resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 34 to 17.

NEW RAILROAD FOR CALIFORNIA.

Nevada Corporation to Build a Line From Eureka to Crescent City.

A railroad project which means much for the Northwest Coast section of California was incorporated in this city last month, and the fact has just been made public. February 5th last there was incorporated at Reno the California and Northern Railway Company which is to build a broad-gauge line ninety miles in length from Eureka in Humboldt county to Crescent City in Del Norte county. The capital stock is $2,500,000. Of this sum $100,000 has been subscribed.

The directors of this corporation are: Charles Nelson, Francis Korbel, F. N. Lillenthal and John L. Koster of San Francisco, and D. B. Lyman, P. L. Flanagan and Oscar J. Smith of this city. They have each subscribed for $10,000 of the stock. All are men of means and identified with large business enterprises on the coast. Why they should have incorporated the company in Nevada, unless for the purpose of keeping the matter quite as long as possible, is not known.

Stereopticon Illustrations.

In the Methodist Church to-night Rev. G. H. Jones will illustrate his sermon with stereopticon pictures. Some of the pictures are as follows: Christ and the Samaritan Woman, Carousal of the Prodigal, Sin no More, the Kiss of Judas, Christ and the Elph Young Man, Gethsemane, Come unto Me, the Swine Herder, the Return Home, Christ Stilling the Tempest.

If you want saddlery that is right come to

GEO. W. AYERS

For a number of years there have been several harness makers claiming to be saddlers in Washoe county. There has not been a practical saddler at the head of any of them. They have carried a stock of fair appearance high price and cheap quality. When you gave them a difficult order they were forced to send it away to have filled. In the future I invite you to place a trial order with me. I do not believe in self praise, but will let my reputation as a saddler depend on your judgment after inspecting my work. As to experience I have been employed in all the leading saddlery of the United States. I WILL GUARANTEE ALL WORK ENTRUSTED TO ME AT PRICES TEN PER CENT LOWER THAN THOSE WHO CLAIM TO BE COMPETITORS. I have no equals in saddle work in Washoe county. I will place a forfeit that my cowboy outfits or vaquero saddles cannot be duplicated in the State of Nevada. Yours for friendship and trade,

Upon this result being announced, the original resolution was adopted without division.

It being generally understood from the discussion that the association should prepare a bill that would meet the objections of the anti-leasers, on motion the president was instructed to appoint a committee, consisting of one member from each State and Territory wherein there were public grazing lands, for the purpose of preparing a bill that would be satisfactory to the stockmen as a whole. Accordingly, the president later appointed the following committee:

Hon. Jesse G. Northcutt, Trinidad, Colorado, chairman; Hon. Jesse M. Smith, Layton Utah; E. P. Snow, Cheyenne, Wyoming; Hon. Charles O. Stockslager, Hailey, Idaho; Mr. Paul McCormick, Billings, Montana; Mr. A. N. Jeffries, Dickinson, North Dakota; Hon. C. L. Wood, Rapid City, South Dakota; Hon. Solomon Luna, Los Lunas, New Mexico; Mr. E. S. Gosney, Flagstaff, Arizona; Mr. J. B. Blake, Pendleton Oregon; Hon. Sydney Clarke, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Mr. R. M. Lyon, San Francisco, California; Mr. James McIntosh, Sydney, Nebraska; Mr. T. M. Potter, Peabody, Kansas; Dr. J. E. Stubbs, Reno, Nevada; Mr. W. P. Reser, Walla Walla, Washington.

This committee is already at work, and later, when it has agreed upon a measure, it will be presented to the stockmen of the West for approval and amendment. When finally agreed upon, it will be presented to Congress. In the meanwhile the association has received assurance that none of the measures now pending, and which are not satisfactory to the stockmen as a whole, will be pushed, and that any measure the stockmen may agree upon will receive attention at the hands of Congress.

As the matter now stands, the National Live Stock Association has simply declared in favor of leasing the public grazing lands under such restrictions as will protect the actual settler and homesteader, and a committee has been appointed to see if it is possible to prepare such a measure. Until this committee has acted, there is nothing for the stockmen to consider, as it is understood that all pending bills are for the time laid aside awaiting action by the stockmen. The National Association in convention, declared emphatically that the small stockman and homesteader should first be protected, and unless a measure can be prepared that will accomplish that purpose, the National Association will not support it.

It may be said in conclusion, that observation from the headquarters of this association shows almost every corporation and syndicate to be outspoken in condemning any leasing proposition, insisting that they will never pay one cent to the Government for grazing their stock on public lands. So all the hue and cry about this being a corporation measure is absolutely without any foundation in fact.

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Frank E. Horn as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The action is brought to recover the judgment and decree of said court re-forming certain deed, and the execution thereof, made and delivered by said defendant to the plaintiff on or about the month of January, 1874, conveying to plaintiff certain lands in Township 30 N., R. 19 east, in Washoe county, described in plaintiff's complaint, and to quiet said plaintiff's title to said lands, and remove a cloud from plaintiff's title thereto; and for general relief. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of said Court, at Reno, this second day of March, 1900.
